

Abstraction

Introduction:

In all of population ,sexually transmitted disease is a commonest disease in infectious disease.

In IRAN, number of sexually transmitted disease is 190994, that range of 20-29 years with 66263 people is greatest.

Although the rate of rise of STD , has closed connected to knowlage of this disease , in this study , considerate the rate of knowlage of STD in city health unit in ARDABIL .

Method and materials:

This study is a Descriptive- Sectional study.387 number of women that refer to city health unit in 1383, were studied .

Data mustered with questionnaire.

For analyzing of data , used  $x^2$  and spss12.

Results:

Rate of knowlage of women that refer to city health unites in ARDABIL in 1383 about sexually transmitted disease , mostly is a little (79/7%) that rate of knowlage about sign of disease is lower than about knowlage of transmission of this disease .